WATERFALL AND TRAIL ETIQUETTE

We want you to enjoy your adventure!

VIEW THE FALLS

- Check out the falls from a viewing platform, this is the best place to see the falls and enjoy the view!
- Stay away from the bottom of gorges, waterfalls or escarpment areas – there is a chance of falling rocks and you could slip and fall on wet or algae-covered rocks.
- Stay away from slopes and edges of the escarpment – ground can become unstable in these areas and pose a fall hazard.
- Whenever visiting water, always be mindful that some areas are prone to flash flooding – pay attention to weather conditions.
- Stay at least one body-length back from the edge of gorges, waterfalls and escarpment areas. This is especially important for children and pets.
- Some Waterfalls in Hamilton have polluted water, do not swim or wade in them.
- Stay away from dangerous areas to take a photo your life is more important than a selfie or landscape shot.

TRAIL SAFETY

- Stick to the marked trails to access the waterfalls, creating your own trail is dangerous and is considered trespassing.
- Respect posted signage, stay on trails and do not climb or bypass fencing.
- Ensure you wear appropriate footwear and only visit the falls during the daylight hours.
- Do not consume alcohol or take medication that may affect your balance while walking near the falls.
- Enjoy the plants and wildlife near the waterfalls, do not litter or trample the delicate plants. Parents/Guardians keep a very close watch on children and take the time to discuss safety concerns before and during your visit.

- Leave no trace – leave what you find and take out what you bring. If you are packing food to enjoy on your hike, please be sure to pack it up and take the garbage with you.
- Weather, terrain, and various trail conditions can be challenging. Be prepared by packing drinking water, bug spray, sunscreen, light jacket, and even a first-aid kit. Minimize any risk by simply planning ahead.

DAY ONE

DEVIL'S PUNCH BOWL FALLS CA, VINEMOUNT WETLANDS, DOFASCO 2000 TRAIL

DISTANCE:

18.4 km

TIME REQUIRED:

Hike 4.5 hours

Cycle 1.75 -2 hours

DIFFICULTY:

Moderate to Avid

SEASONS:

Spring, Summer, Fall

DEVIL'S PUNCH BOWL FALLS AND DEVIL'S PUNCH BOWL FALLS CONSERVATION AREA

Devil's Punchbowl Falls Coordinates: 43.21045, -79.75594

Distance/Timing: 400 m / 5 min. (Upper Trails and Lookout)

Terrain: Paved Pathway, Packed Earth

Park at the designated lot provided by the conservation area (pay & display), as the upper trails are curated, including a wide trail from the parking lot, which is accessible. At the top end of the trail, visit the large lookout perched at the edge of the cliff, and spend some taking in the vista views. Towering above is a remarkable 10-metre-high metal cross, which serves as a beacon over Stoney Creek, and a landmark in its own right.

Visitors will discover this distinctive gorge shape, resembling its much larger cousin, Horseshoe Falls in Niagara Falls. Devil's Punch Bowl Falls is a stunning 37-metre ribbon waterfall, with an overhang feature.

Spring is the best season for the rush of water from Stoney Creek (Creek), as it tumbles over the rock. All other seasons, it is a mere trickle, however the view of the gorge tells the story of the geology composition. The bowl itself is about 34-metres deep and 60-metres across. The gorge was caused from erosion of the recession of the glaciers from Lake Ontario basin about 10,000 to 12,000 years ago. Today, the erosion has exposed a magnificent sequence of geological strata from the lower shale beds to the resistant Lockport dolostone cap rock.

Opposite Devil's Punch Bowl CA, on Ridge Road, is Devil's Punch Bowl Market and Bakery. It's a lovely nostalgic store with a delicious bakery. Try the amazing home-made squares, and take home a pie to share. This 150-year-old red barn attraction is a step-back-in-time treasure.

About Vinemount Wetland

Known as Hamilton's largest natural forest area south of the escarpment, Vinemount Wetlands is regarded for its significant species of birds. Birdwatchers will discover sightings of the Northern Harrier and the Sedge Wren. Migratory waterfowl species use this area as a stopover, as it also supports a heronry. See Edwards' Hairstreak Butterfly, which is a savanna species of butterfly, and the only site in the Hamilton area to find such species. Along the swamp section, several highly significant species of plants grow here.

The Vinemount Swamp is a headwaters swamp and serves an important purpose in regulating the stream flow in Forty Mile Creek and Stoney Creek. Boardwalks meander through this area, providing an interesting journey that is scenic and tranquil.

LOWER NIAGARA ESCARPMENT AND STONEY CREEK (CREEK)

(OPTIONAL EXPERIENCE)

Difficulty: Moderate to Avid

Distance/Timing: 5 km / 45 -60 min. (Roundtrip)

Terrain: Paved Pathway, Packed Earth

For hikers enjoying a natural descend and a climb back up, take this route to Battlefield House Museum & Park. The park will also connect to downtown Stoney Creek.

From the main upper trail of Devil's Punch Bowl CA, find the Escarpment Trail, which is on the right side of the path from the parking lot. Follow the tree line where the blue side trail markers begin the trail down the escarpment. The hike down is a stair-like experience, and is steep in spots. From the descend portion of this hike, the trail makes a hairpin left. Follow the Bruce Trail/Escarpment Trail along the forested path. A side trail that leads to Lower Devil's Punch Bowl waterfall. Lower Devil's Punch Bowl is a 6-metre classical plunge waterfall and is approximately 100-metres downstream along the Stoney Creek of Devil's Punch Bowl. Head west along the rolling terrain of the Bruce Trail to the Battlefield Park Access.

There is along Bruce Trail Access Trail linking to Mountain Avenue South. This is an option that will access downtown Stoney Creek and once at King Street East, turn left and follow this road to Battlefield House Museum & Park.

A wooden bridge leads you along a portion of the path and then steps up to cross the railroad tracks. Over the tracks, a few steps down takes you along this access and through a natural landscape of trees and shrubs. Nestled under the escarpment, the 32-acre park is home to Battlefield House Museum & Park, National Historic Site.

Visit the museum, which is an early 19th century homestead, once home to the Gage family. The Gages worked the land with their then children and became a strong voice in the hamlet of Stoney Creek. During the War of 1812, the family retreated to their cellar as the Battle of Stoney Creek raged outside. The 100-foot high Battlefield Monument stands as a symbol of peace and commemorates those soldiers who died on June 6, 1813.

To return to Devil's Punch Bowl CA, retrace your route along the trail. Remember, there is a climb back up the trail steps to the upper escarpment.

Historical Notable

On June 5, 1813, an invading United States army of about 3,000 men, commanded by Brigadier-General John Chandler, camped in this vicinity. That evening some 700 British regulars of the 8th and 49th Regiments, under the command of Lieutenant-Colonel John Harvey, left their encampment on Burlington Heights to attack the enemy. The assault was launched early the following morning under cover of darkness. In the fierce and confused fighting which followed, heavy losses were suffered on both sides, but the Americans were defeated and withdrew after their two senior officers, Brigadier-Generals Chandler and Winder, were captured. This victory is credited with preventing Upper Canada from being overrun in 1813.
